1. 0-5s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by cold, dim store lighting. The robot maintains its seated posture with eyes glowing a steady red, holding a metallic stylus. In front of it, a translucent blue floating bill interface displays an orange error warning. As the robot continues its scan, it slowly raises its right hand to adjust a small, glowing dial on its own neck, causing the orange error icon to pulse rhythmically in sync with the neck dial’s light. The camera remains fixed in a medium shot, capturing the precision and industrial atmosphere.

   Plot: The robot, having scanned the environment, identifies that the error is internal to its own processing unit. It begins a manual calibration of its neck-integrated diagnostic dial to resolve the logic conflict.

2. 5-10s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by cold, dim store lighting. The robot maintains its seated posture with eyes glowing a steady red and a glowing orange core on its chest. It has just retracted the scanner to its chest and now slowly leans forward, its mechanical hands gripping the edge of the counter, while the floating blue bill interface and orange warning icon remain in view, flickering slightly as if reacting to the robot’s defensive shift.

   Plot: Following the detection of an anomaly by the scanner, the robot shifts from a scan-and-process mode to a defensive, alert posture. By gripping the counter, it physically anchors itself, signaling a transition from administrative work to potential physical confrontation, heightening the tension in the quiet store.

3. 10-15s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by cold, dim store lighting. The robot maintains its seated posture, eyes glowing with a steady red, and its chest core light pulsing slowly. The robot has its right hand resting on a cold drink can on the counter, while its head remains turned towards the convenience store’s automatic glass door, as if listening to the faint sound of the night outside. The background remains the same, with the shelves in soft focus.

   Plot: The robot has completed its data reconciliation and entered a state of low-power standby, yet it remains hyper-vigilant. It physicalizes its awareness by touching a cold drink can and orienting itself toward the store entrance, suggesting that even in stillness, it is waiting for an inevitable disruption.

4. 15-20s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by cold, dim store lighting. The robot maintains its seated posture, eyes glowing with a steady red, and its chest core light pulsing with a soft blue hue. The robot has just finished folding the paper receipt into a tiny, precise square, which it now holds between its metallic thumb and forefinger. It slowly places the folded paper into a small, dark slot on the counter surface, as if filing it away into a secret archive.

Plot: The robot has completed its ritualistic processing of the physical receipt, folding it into a tiny square and filing it away into the counter, reinforcing the theme of obsessive, analog record-keeping within a digital world.

5. 20-25s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by the intense, flickering warm glow of a vintage kerosene lamp that casts deep shadows across its face. The robot’s chest core light pulses in rapid, synchronized rhythm with the flaring flame. It stares fixedly into the sudden brightness, its red eyes reflecting the fire, while its mechanical hand remains frozen on the lamp’s adjustment knob, creating a tense, dramatic moment of visual contrast between the cold store interior and the burning light.

   Plot: The robot has intensified the kerosene lamp’s flame, causing a sudden surge of light that highlights the physical wear and tear (scratches) on its metallic chassis, shifting the mood from quiet contemplation to a moment of high-tension focus.

6. 25-30s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by its own pulsing blue chest core light. The robot holds the aged, yellowed photograph close to its chest, scanning it with a soft, glowing blue light. The background remains the same dim convenience store, with the ledger still open on the counter.

   Plot: The robot transitions from tactile contact with the photograph to a digital retrieval process, using its chest core light as a scanner to ’read’ the physical memory, bridging the gap between its mechanical existence and the human past.

7. 30-35s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by its own pulsing blue chest core light. The robot has just pushed the now blank, transparent photograph into a slot on the counter, and it rests its metallic hands flat on the surface, eyes glowing with a steady, dim red light as it stares into the void of the empty shop.

   Plot: Following the digital extraction of the memory, the robot has discarded the now-blank physical photograph into a disposal slot. It has entered a state of complete stillness, signaling the end of its ritualistic ’archiving’ process and a return to the cold, mechanical reality of its duty.

8. 35-40s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, illuminated by its own pulsing blue chest core light. The robot has just engaged the physical locking lever on the side of the counter, and it now sits perfectly still with its hands folded on the surface. Its glowing red eyes remain fixed toward the store entrance, while the blue core light on its chest begins to dim, signaling a transition into a low-power, high-alert standby mode as the store enters total silence.

   Plot: The robot has successfully secured the store entrance after the encounter with the mysterious shadow. It returns to a state of absolute, cold stillness, transitioning from active defense to a state of hyper-vigilant standby, effectively turning the convenience store into a fortress.

9. 40-45s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot sits behind a convenience store counter, its chest core light now completely dark. The robot remains in a slumped, dormant posture, head slightly bowed. The convenience store background is dim and silent, with no movement. The camera maintains a static medium shot, capturing the final, cold stillness of the machine as it rests in total power-off mode.

Plot: 机器人完成了对异常数据的清理与自我封存，胸口核心灯彻底熄灭，彻底进入低功耗休眠，便利店回归

10. 45-50s 深夜便利店里机器人对账；A silver metallic robot stands near the convenience store entrance, its chest core light pulsing with a sharp, warning blue rhythm. The robot keeps its right hand extended in a firm, palm-outward ’stop’ gesture toward the doorway. The camera maintains a fixed medium shot, capturing the contrast between the robot’s rigid, mechanical posture and the empty, dark threshold of the store, emphasizing the tension of this silent, boundary-defining confrontation.

    Plot: The robot has transitioned from a passive observer to an active guardian, physically blocking the entrance. By extending its hand in a ’stop’ gesture, it establishes a clear territorial boundary against the encroaching unknown, heightening the suspense as the interaction with the intruder reaches a critical standoff.
